Dear Parents,

I wouldn’t mind betting there were a few tired children and staff members on Friday afternoon who welcomed the weekend as a time to recover from the rigours of Bike Ed and Camp. Our year six students were a credit to the school as they challenged themselves in all manner of ways at the Briars Outdoor Education Camp in Mt Martha. Their behaviour and enthusiasm was exemplary! Back at school, the year five students undertook the Bike Ed Program with both gusto and responsibility culminating in the ride along the Warburton trail. On behalf of the students and families I would like to thank the huge effort and dedication from the staff that goes into making these programs a success. Many thanks to Mr Bateman, Mrs Fotopoulos, Mrs Fraraccio, Mrs McPhee and Miss Lewis who attended the year six camp and to Mrs Kelly, Mr Dent, Mrs Mc Cormack, Mrs Downey, Mrs Passingham, Mrs Grant, Mrs Mc Taggert, Mr Mc Taggart and the parent helpers who assisted with Bike Ed across the three days.

Thank you also to Mrs Foley and Mrs Taranto who kept things running smoothly in both the office and with the students and to all of the teachers back at school; interruptions to routine can sometimes be unsettling for the students last week was a true example of the St Mary’s community pulling together to achieve great things.

We also held a very reverent ANZAC Day memorial on Friday afternoon; I have included a photo of the beautiful memorial constructed by the children in 3/4 C. We were also able to introduce a new member of the St Mary’s team to the children. Miss Acosta joins us under the Commonwealth Government National School’s Chaplaincy Program. Please look out for the letter and permission form that will go home tomorrow which explains the program fully.

A reminder that we are holding our first Community Conversation in the hall tomorrow at 2:15pm. Invitations have been sent home and we would love to see lots of healthy discussion among parents, students and staff.

Our prayers are with Miss Lewis who has lost a loved one over this past week, we extend our love and support to her at this difficult time.

Please return your Parish raffle tickets—sold or unsold – immediately.

Congratulations to our Students of the Week for last week:

Car Park

For the safety of all our children we ask that driver courtesy, patience and the utmost care is practised at all times.

No standing in the driveway or roundabout areas unless ALL parking spaces are taken.

When you have accessed a car park, do not leave it to join the queue

We need access for emergency and delivery vehicles and buses. Blocking the driveway also means that others are unable to access available parking spaces and causes a dangerous back up of traffic in Clegg Road.

- Pick up and drop off on the roundabout only at the designated place. Please ensure that your child can do up their own seat belt if you are using this area, as this will ensure an uninterrupted flow.
- Maximum speed anywhere in the school grounds is walking pace – our school grounds begin at the Clegg Rd entrance.
- The driveway in front of the church, in front of the Presbytery carport and the driveway to the rear of the presbytery is to be kept clear at all times to allow 24 hour access.
- Please keep the access to the staff car park clear
- When backing into allocated car parking spaces please indicate & avoid backing over two lanes from an opposite bay and ensure that your car is not overhanging the walkway.
- Please depart from the car park as soon as possible after collecting your children, so that others may park in the designated areas.
- The school property begins at the green gates at Clegg Rd. When departing from the school grounds, it is necessary to give way to traffic coming from the right of the roundabout at Clegg Rd. Traffic, other than school traffic, use this roundabout.
- Please avoid parking on the nature strips at the front of the school or blocking the driveways of our neighbours. You may incur a fine from a visiting parking inspector.
- Please be polite and respectful of everyone (including our neighbours) at ALL times.

If we all cooperate the car park does work. We find that generally, the car park is virtually cleared by 3.30pm. so it may be beneficial to come a little later, rather than earlier.

To avoid fines and to ensure the safety of everyone by avoiding a build-up in the driveway and then Clegg Road, please ensure that:

- There is no standing in the driveway and that all available parking spaces are used.
- When you have accessed a car park, do not leave it to join the queue. If you absolutely must do the driveway pick up, come later.
- Do not park on the road shoulders. This means that cars are unable to go past the right hand turning vehicles.
- Leave a clearway so that others may come out of the driveway.
- Avoid causing the queue for right turning vehicles into the school to overflow beyond the dedicated right turn lane as this blocks eastbound through traffic on Clegg Road.
- Clear the car park as quickly as possible so that others may have your parking space.
- Be prepared to go around the roundabout again if your child is not ready to be picked up. The traffic MUST keep moving.

Gospel

Jn 10:11-18

A reading from the holy Gospel according to John

The good shepherd lays down his life for his sheep.

When we hear the story of the Good Shepherd we are reminded of Jesus' love for us. He will guard us, care for us and protect us. Jesus’ came to teach us about shepherding, and he left us a flock to tend. He told us to call on the Spirit when we need extra strength or wisdom for the job.

Think for a moment about sheep. Think about how vulnerable they were in Jesus’ time. Wolves would attack. Thieves could steal them. They needed food and drink.

Think for a moment about people today. Like wolves, commercials prey on many who believe they are worthless unless they are beautiful. Like thieves, drugs and alcohol steal many people’s lives away with promises of pleasure and escape. Like hunger, loneliness and isolation starve those who don’t know where to turn for someone who will care. And finally, many thirst for a message they can count on in a world that is so filled with disappointments.

It seems like we need plenty of good shepherds. You have the power to protect, to feed, to save people. Take leadership in our Church, school, families, or in a community service initiative. Trust the Good Shepherd; he’ll show you how to do it all.

I am the _______ ______. I know my own _______ and they _______ me, just as the _______ knows me and I know the Father. I lay down my _______ for my sheep.

Thanks for your help!
When kids bend the truth
As a rule of thumb, step back and try to identify the purpose of a child’s untruths. This indicates to parents how they should deal with the behaviour.

A matter of trust
Thirteen-year-old Britta was refused permission to visit an older friend after school, as her mother thought the friend unsuitable company for her daughter. Resenting her mother’s interference Britta frequently visited her older friend. When her mother asked her where she was going after school she would lie and tell her that she was visiting a friend that her mother approved of. Eventually her mother found out through an acquaintance that Britta had been lying to her about her visits. She confronted her daughter with the truth. Her mother dealt with the matter of the illicit visits. She was not permitted to go out after school for two weeks. This was an appropriate consequence that matched the misbehaviour. She dealt with the matter of lying separately; pointing out that it was difficult to trust her daughter when she didn’t tell the truth.

Fantasising
Some children continually exaggerate to make everything appear bigger or better than in real life. In this way they appear more exciting or interesting than they think they are. This is a sign of discouragement. It is best to go along with these children’s tales, although you should let them know that you are aware of the truth without bursting their bubble. It is fine to exaggerate, but they should never be too far away from reality. Persistent fantasisers often need plenty of encouragement. Let them know that they are OK as they are. Fantasising and telling tall tales may be fun but they don’t need to fantasise to build themselves up. Youngest children in the family often tell whoppers in an effort to make themselves seem important in the eyes of older siblings.

Imaginary friends
Some children will use imaginary friends to avoid doing things they don’t want to do. ‘Mr. Bear says I don’t have to go bed’. If it only happens once in a while then it’s a bit of fun. It can become wearing if it’s a continuous avoidance strategy. If that’s the case, try the direct approach. ‘Mr. Bear could be right. But I’m your mum and I know it’s bedtime. Mr. Bear can join you if he likes.’

Escaping negative consequences
Eight-year-old Pamela spilt a container of milk on the kitchen floor. She panicked, replaced the empty container in the refrigerator and went off to her bedroom to read. When her mother saw the mess, she asked Pamela if she knew what had happened. The child denied any knowledge of it. ‘What milk do you mean, Mum?’ said Pamela, with an innocent look on her face. Her mother, knowing immediately that her daughter was responsible, asked her to help to clean up the mess. Avoiding a scene, she made sure that her daughter didn’t escape the consequence of cleaning up the mess that she had made.

Don’t overreact
Be careful not to overreact when children tell lies. It is better to recognise the child’s goal and act in a way that prevents the behaviour from achieving its purpose. There is little point moralising about the evils of lying. Children know that they should be good; they don’t need to be reminded all the time. Children will continue behaviours that serve a purpose, regardless of whether the actions are morally good or bad. It is more useful to ensure that lying doesn’t achieve its goal and to encourage children at every conceivable occasion.
